Curtis Ellison Back from France

Top Sergeant of Co. F Brings Greetings From Canyon Boys Overseas

1-Sgt. Curtis Ellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Ellison, arrived in Canyon Monday with his bride, the former Miss Joan Cosgno of Brighton, Mass., for a portion of a 30-day leave in the states.

Sgt. Ellison has been overseas with our own Co. F, 142nd Infantry for the past 21 months. He served in the invasion of Africa, Sicily, Italy and France and stood on a hill from which he saw the hills of Germany about 10 miles away just before he started home.

Receiving wounds in the battle of Salerno, Sgt. Ellison was out of action for 3 months recuperating. He wears with his badge for the purple heart, a combat infantryman's award, and a service bar bearing four stars for the four invasions in which he has participated.

Before leaving the company, Sgt. Ellison talked with Capt. Vincent Lockhart who is now assistant Adjutant-General for the division, and with other men from Canyon who are still with Co. F. All of them were well but wanting to come home. Since the Army is now sending a large number of men home in rotation, Sgt. Ellison says that he hopes some of the other Canyon boys will get to come home as soon as he returns.

When asked if it was cold when he left France, the sergeant said, "Several mornings I awakened to find I was covered in snow three or four inches deep. I was good and warm. My head was covered with my helmet and blanket. We all sleep with our helmets on because we do not know when a shell may come our way while we are asleep."

Sgt. and Mrs. Ellison were married in Brighton, Mass., January 10. They had met while the sergeant was stationed there before being sent over seas.

"While it is great to be home, I have been with Co. F now 8 years and it really seems a part of me or I of it. We know what a human can take and keep taking," said Sgt. Ellison.

Elver Brown Is Reported Killed on Belgium Front

Pfc. Elver Brown was reported killed in action in Belgium on Dec. 27. A telegram came Sunday to his wife, who is living with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, in Hereford.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown were graduates of W. T. three years ago. They taught at Quail before Mr. Brown entered the service. Mrs. Brown returned to Hereford in the fall when her husband was sent overseas.

A daughter, Bessie Jo, was born to Mrs. Brown at Hereford six weeks ago. Mrs. Brown and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Patterson passed through Canyon Monday on their way to Follette where they are spending a few days at the home of Mr. Brown's parents.

Mrs. Brown will be remembered as Lillian Chambers, who was on the Canyon News staff during the four years she was in college. She graduated from the Canyon high school with honors.

Nationally Known Speaker Visits Plains Museum

William Haynes, nationally known speaker, visited the Panhandle Historical Society Museum last week as a guest of Floyd Studer of Amarillo who is director of Archaeological Paleontological research for the Historical Society.

This was the first visit of Mr. Haynes to the museum. He expressed a long-time interest in the undertaking, and stated that he was very glad to have an opportunity to see the collections about which he had heard so much.

As a speaker before Knife and Fork Clubs and other groups, Mr. Haynes has had an opportunity to visit practically all the museums in the United States.

P. T. A. TO MEET TODAY

At 3:30 this afternoon the Canyon Grade School Parent-Teacher Association will meet in the music room of the Grade school. Miss Ruth Lowes of the Education Department of West Texas State College and Miss Lou Ella Patterson, County Home Demonstration Agent, are the speakers for the afternoon.

Mrs. T. S. Maxwell left Monday night for Kansas City markets.

LT. ARTIST H. (Hud) PRICHARD

Regional Red Cross Meeting Held In Canyon Yesterday Afternoon

The Southwestern Division of the North Plains Camp and Hospital Council, comprising seven counties met in the Thompson Club Room yesterday afternoon.

E. S. Richardson, Red Cross Field Director from Amarillo Army Air Field, presided over this meeting. The duty of this Division, stated Mr. Richardson is to supply the many things that make hospital life more like home atmosphere and give extra comfort to our sick and returned hospitalized service boys.

The present needs call for entertainment for the boys, lawn chairs, new popular records, radios, metal waste baskets, large ash trays, large scraps of linoleum, a continuation of gifts, cookies and novels and other small items.

The Girls Trio from West Texas State College composed of Mary Lee Abbott, Winnie Fred Ramage, and Mary Evelyn Foster, accompanied by Anita Davis, brought several selections which were enjoyed by all. Miss Laverne Pollard of the college gave a reading.

Guests were from Amarillo Air Field, Potter, Swisher, Deaf Smith, Castro, Armstrong, Oldham and Randall counties totaled around 60.

Mrs. D. A. Shirley presided over the coffee service. The table was centered with snap dragons, and angel food cake, sandwiches, nuts and coca cola were served.

The next meeting will be Feb. 21 at Dimmitt.

Mileage Records Must Be Kept by Holders A Cards

All operators of passenger cars with basic "A" rations must have "Mileage Rationing Records" to be eligible to apply for any gasoline rations, R. C. Wooldridge, District Gasoline Rationing Officer for OPA, pointed out today.

In the recent re-registration of the nation's 23,000,000 basic "A" ration holders, each registrant was issued one of these mileage record forms. The form replaced the old tire rationing record, on which was kept a list of all gasoline rations issued to the vehicle.

Without this important record form, no motorist may be issued a "B" or "C" supplemental ration, he emphasized.

Information has been received from local War Price and Rationing Boards that many motorists did not understand the use of the record form and lost or destroyed theirs.

No supplemental rations or special of furlough rations for cars with basic "A" rations may be issued to an applicant who does not present his mileage rationing record with his supplemental gasoline application, Wooldridge emphasized.

Malcolm Bull Writes Mother From Jap Camp

According to a letter received this week from Mrs. Leigh Bull of Long Beach, Calif., she received a card last Monday, January 15 from her son, Malcolm. The card was written in Malcolm's handwriting, May 6 from Camp No. 1, Luzon. He was well at that time and had just received a package that was sent to him in 1943.

CAMP AND HOSPITAL C. MEET

Saturday at 2:30 o'clock the Camp and Hospital Co-ordinating Council will have a regular meeting in the Thompson Club rooms.

Mrs. Bud Myers and son with Mrs. W. S. Myers visited in Lubbock Sunday.

Road Survey Is Now Being Made

Two Cross County Farm To Market Roads Are Proposed to the State

The fine weather of the past two weeks has greatly favored the survey which is being made on the farm-to-market roads which are proposed for Randall county.

The Commissioners Court will meet again today, and the engineer hopes to have most of the survey ready to present to the court.

Two roads running east and west across Randall county are being submitted to the State Highway Commission as a post-war project. These roads are north and south of Canyon, and the locations were selected with the view of serving the largest number of farmers.

The county planning board recently approved the construction of these roads as a post-war project. The State Highway Commission is encouraging all counties to submit farm-to-market roads. Congress has already appropriated large sums of money for this purpose as a means of affording employment after the war.

Rain Falls Over County Yesterday First of Year

Rain fell throughout yesterday in Canyon. The drizzle amounted to only .25 of an inch, but will be of great benefit to the wheat crop, according to farmers who were in town yesterday.

This was the first moisture to fall in Canyon for 1945. Early in January, 1944, sleet and snow fell early in January.

The weather has been unseasonably warm this month. There have been several night when the temperature dropped much below freezing. Temperatures for the days has ranged up to 60 degrees. Several times the weatherman has predicted that cold waves were on the way, but they always failed to reach Canyon.

Colder weather is predicted following the rain, and a considerable amount of snow may fall, according to the weather bureau.

On the whole, this has been an ideal winter, but the splendid record may be broken before the atmosphere clears again.

Dr. H. A. Brown Expands Office, Adds Technician

Mrs. Nettie Babb has recently returned from Detroit, Michigan where she completed a course of training as a colonic technician.

She is now working in Dr. Brown's Clinic.

Dr. Brown has recently installed new equipment thereby enlarging his capacity for efficient care of his patients in the clinic.

WTSC Foundation Organizes; Selects Ross Rogers Chairman

The Board of Directors of the West Texas State College Foundation held its first business meeting in the office of President J. A. Hill this week.

The recently created organization chose Ross D. Rogers of Amarillo as chairman, Dave Warren of Panhandle as vice-chairman, Herschel Coffee of Canyon as secretary, Raymond Thompson of Vega as treasurer, and Charles Keffer of Amarillo as legal adviser.

Ten of the twelve members of the Foundation Board were present. They were the officers named above and James T. Hale, Tulia; John McCarty, Amarillo; Newton Harrell, Claude; Roy Boger, Amarillo; and Lee Johnson, Canyon.

Unavoidably absent were Deskins Wells of Wellington and Mel Davis of Pampa.

The West Texas State College Foundation was authorized by the Board of Regents of West Texas State in one of its recent meetings. The resolution passed by the Board of Regents states that the Foundation is created, "To obtain more adequate financial support for and thus improve the services of West Texas State College."

Going on, the resolution says, "The Board shall be charged with the duty of creating and developing a program for promoting the general welfare of said college through gifts and endowments."

The Board will meet again in about thirty days to discuss detailed methods for carrying out some plans, both immediate and remote, which are under way; in the meantime, the Board through its legal advisor, Mr. Keffer, is applying to the State for a charter.

Among projects which the Board will seek to forward are the early completion of fund-raising for the chapel; raising funds to build, or assist in building, a Student Union Building; and funds to assist the Historical Society with its building program.

Scholarship endowments and lectureships, as well as the endowment of chairs in the college, are included in the long range plans.

Commenting on the Foundation, President Hill said, "I think it quite likely that the creation of this Foundation will be looked upon in years to come as an important land mark in the history of the college."

Era G. McDaniels, S 1-c, wife of R. T. McDaniels, has been spending a 10-day leave with her husband and other relatives in Canyon after having been graduated from the Naval Training School on the campus of the Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Cpl. Roy J. Stevens, son of Mrs. Lessie Stevens, was graduated last week from AAF Training Command's Flexible Gunnery School at Buckingham Field near Ft. Myers, Fla. He will now receive his crew training at an operational training field.

Sgt. David Sharman, who is a prisoner of war in Germany, wrote the C. O. Cooper family recently that he is studying shorthand and French in the camp. Some of his fellow prisoners are the teachers.

Conventions Are Postponed Under Regulations ODT

Under ODT rulings it is almost impossible for a convention to be held which will be attended by 50 members of more.

Directors of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association met in Amarillo Sunday and voted to postpone indefinitely the convention which was scheduled for next month. Mrs. C. L. Thompson is secretary of this association. She had the program ready to be printed, and will issue these books to all members.

The Panhandle High School Press convention held annually at West Texas State was postponed Tuesday by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, sponsor, in compliance with ODT regulations.

Directors of the Panhandle Press Association will meet in Amarillo soon. Clyde Warwick, secretary, has advised all directors to attend this meeting. It is likely that under ODT regulations that this convention will be postponed.

It was reported from Amarillo this week that all regional conventions scheduled for this sprig have been cancelled in deference to ODT requirements.

Dimes Are Now on March Aid of Infantile Cases

Various clubs in the county are already marching their dimes to Wes Kleinschmidt, county chairman of the March of Dimes for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

From these early returns it is indicated that Randall County will go over the top on another drive. Fifty per cent of the proceeds of this drive stays in this county to combat any paralysis that might occur.

TROOP NO. V ELECTS

Scout Troop No. 5 of Canyon High School elected the following officers for the new year on Wednesday, January 10: President, Fay Dickerson; vice-president, Sue Dickerson; secretary, Sue Ann Colwell; pianist, Jo Ann Bullard; song leader, Frankie Sneed; program chairman, Sue Jennings; reporter, Peggy LaLoge; game chairman, June Long.

Jack Taylor, S 1-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Taylor, Sr., who has been visiting friends and relatives in Canyon for the past ten days, left Tuesday morning for his base in California. He drove Wayne Porter's car out to the Porters, who are located at the same base. Mrs. Taylor and daughter remained in Canyon.

Sgt. Charles Donnell, United States Marine, left Friday night for the West Coast to report for further duty after having spent 10 days visiting with his father, Dr. C. E. Donnell, and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Will Bauer Killed in Wreck

Car Rammed Into Oil Transport Truck Near Umbarger Thursday Eve

A blinding evening sun and a truck parked on the highway caused an accident Thursday afternoon which resulted in the death of Mrs. Will Bauer and injuries to her son.

Mrs. Bauer was driving home about 6:30 in the evening. An oil transport truck was parked near the Rudolph Friemel home and about one-half mile from the Bauer home. Evidently the sun blinded Mrs. Bauer, who drove into the truck. She received no broken bones, but suffered internal injuries from the steering wheel which was rammed into her just below the ribs. She died at 8:30 o'clock that evening in a hospital in Amarillo.

David, 12 year old son of the Bauers, who was with his mother, received a broken wrist and ankle. He is in an Amarillo hospital. Stella Friemel, a niece of Mrs. Bauer was not seriously injured.

The Car was practically demolished.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bauer were conducted Monday morning at 10:30 in St. Mary's Catholic Church at Umbarger with the Rev. Father J. J. Krukkert officiating.

Mrs. Bauer was born December 24, 1909 to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Friemel. She is survived by her husband, Will Bauer; a son, David; her parents; five brothers, Charles and Herbert of Umbarger, Ted of Groom, Ernest and Richard in the United States Army; and three sisters, Mrs L. J. Welck, Mrs. Albert Bergenfelt, and Miss Pauline Friemel of Umbarger.

Interment was in the Umbarger Cemetery.

Jack N. Jennings Is Reported Missing in War Zone

S-Sgt. Jack Neal Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Worth Jennings, Sr., is missing in action since December 6, in Germany, according to a telegram received by his wife, Mrs. Rubye Guthrie Jennings.

S-Sgt. Jennings has been in the army 30 months and has been overseas since October 31. He is serving with the 106 Inf.

After finishing Canyon high school, Sgt. Jennings attended West Texas State and was employed by Hawks Motor company for some time.

DSC Given Friday in Honor of Sgt. Truett O'Donald

At special parade exercises at Amarillo Air Field Friday afternoon, S. O. O'Donald received the Distinguished Service Cross awarded posthumously to Sgt. Truett O'Donald, son of Mr. O'Donald.

Sgt. O'Donald was killed in the Italian campaign February 4, while with Co. F in the invasion.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Donald were taken to the Air Field from the City Hall by an Army escort.

Several families from Canyon and vicinity accompanied the O'Donalds to the services.

Bank Will Close Friday for Robt. E. Lee Birthday

Friday is Robert E. Lee's birthday. It is a legal holiday for all banks in Texas, and will be observed generally throughout the state.

The First National Bank will take this holiday and remain closed for the day.

Ensign Leon Smith visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Smith, last week on a 4 day delayed order. Ens. Smith has been in training for the past 9 months at New York University, New York City where he trained in aerology. He reported January 16 to the Atlantic Fleet Weather Center, Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gordon-Cummings' daughters, Alexia and Marjorie of Amarillo spent Saturday with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson went to Dallas Sunday night on business.

Roll of Honor

Missing in Action

Sgt. Jack N. Jennings, in Germany, Dec. 16, 1944.

Editorials

COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING

Do you favor compulsory military training for boys 18 to 23?

Or are you opposed to such training?

If you are opposed, you had better write a letter today to your Congressman and the two Senators from Texas.

Congress is likely to pass some sort of a military bill during the spring. Both the army and navy want the bill. The administration approves the bill. In fact, approval is about all that you hear coming out of Washington.

Military men want only one kind of a bill—forcing young men into military camps for one year where they would undergo hard training. They put up strong arguments in favor of this type of training. They believe that the future safety of America depends upon the passage of such a bill which shall be effective as soon as peace is declared.

On the other hand there is developing strong opposition. The fact that France, Germany and Japan and other European nations have had compulsory military training for years, and that it makes military nations of them; that the civilian armed forces of America have defeated the organized compulsory military nations; that the educational, moral and ethical standards in these nations have been lowered by this training; coupled with many other impressive arguments, is causing those opposed to compulsory training to believe that the bill will be defeated. The proposal is not new in America, but has always been rejected by Congress.

Write your opinions to Congress. That is the only means whereby your representatives in Congress will know just how you stand on this very important question.

The President has indicated several times of late that he will meet Churchill and Stalin just as soon as he starts his 4th term. He is taking members of Congress into his confidence, with several conferences already held on the subject of foreign relations. The meeting cannot be held too soon. There are dangerous indications that the United Nations are rapidly falling apart. Both British and Russia are running affairs to suit themselves, while the United States stands by with seemingly no foreign policy. In his eagerness to be re-elected, the President evidently turned full attention during the campaign from the foreign front to domestic problems, and has played politics wherever he could pick up votes. While billions of dollars worth of goods are flowing to both Russia and Britain, for which we shall never collect one cent; and while America will be called upon for billions of dollars worth of food for the starving countries which Hitler has devastated—and again we shall collect nothing; both Russia and Britain are gobbling up territory which shall benefit these nations after the war. Uncle Sam was the sucker in World War I; and again we shall be Santa Claus in World War II.

When you turn on the radio you hear practically every morning that such and so wild cat strike started in such and so war plant, but union officials deplore the strike which is entirely unauthorized. That is a very feeble excuse. Why does not the union punish those who call unauthorized strikes? Why does not the administration send the army to take over the union headquarters and put the men in uniform to work for 50 bucks per month until they get ready to act like decent Americans should in time of war? Both CIO and AFFL officials have pledged no strikes during the war. So far this pledge has been a mere scrap of paper, comparable to the late lamented Atlantic Charter.

Republican members of Congress are red hot against continuing Governor Dewey as head of the Republican party. They want to organize in order to carry Congress for GOP in 1946, but without Dewey in command. A million dollars annually will be spent in publicity by the Republicans during the coming two years. Congressional leaders want to get a man of warmth instead of a personality with ice water in his veins.

The food situation in America is certain to get serious in 1945 or 1946. It cannot be otherwise. The farmers of America accomplished the herculian task of increasing food production annually during the past several years. In spite of dwindling manpower and the fact that farm implements were wearing out and could not be replaced, the farmers continued to produce more and more food. Now we are told that the farms of America will be stripped of thousands of the best young farmers under the call of the armed forces. That would be agreeable if the food shortage was being properly handled, but unfortunately this is not the case. We are told that the armed forces have been making a miserable job of handling foods. Millions of TONS (not pounds, but TONS) of food have been allowed to spoil when bought in excess of need. The administration has the idea that only former WPA workers should be hired to do vital jobs. As a result these bunglers have overbought foods, and have piled it up to waste without regard to the needs of the armed forces or the needs of civilians. Expert warehouse men, who have tried to come to the aid of the government, have been kicked out of office for interfering with those of incompetence. It makes one's blood boil to see the waste of war, but this food situation is entirely unjustifiable. Back to the farmers: Just how long can this increased production continue under present short sighted conditions; and just where are the millions of tons of food coming from which we have promised to send abroad to the starving nations? Incidentally, we hope that Roosevelt will have guts enough to tell Churchill that if we are to continue sending food to Italy and to Greece that this food shall be distributed by Americans IN UNITED STATES UNIFORMS. Churchill has made our soldiers change to British uniforms while distributing our food so that he will get all of the credit for this food—raised by the sweat of American farmers.

Do people read editorials, and do they appreciate the large amount of time necessary to work up an editorial page? Every newspaper man wonders about this during the weekly toil of getting up the editorial page. We are told that the people never follow the advice of the newspapers as they consider the newspaper business too much of a commercial institution, being dominated by the financial interests of its advertisers. This is far from the truth. But to get to the point. A visitor came to The News office the other day. He was a stranger in Canyon, but he had heard about The Canyon News and had seen copies of the paper. He stated that he liked the editorial page so well that he wanted to subscribe for the newspaper and have it sent to his home in another town several hundreds of miles away. We hope that this man will not consider that his money has been wasted. And it gives us courage and somewhat of an inspiration to carry on the editorial page, regardless of the handicaps of labor shortage. We do not expect the people of Randall county to always agree with the policy of The News. If we can make a few people think, the mission of the newspaper is accomplished.

Where is Senator O'Daniel, asked a citizen the other day? Why should we know? He would still be a flour salesman in Fort Worth if we had anything to say about his political career. The fact that the Senator opposed the re-election of Roosevelt is no sign that the News has hooked its kite to the uncertain coattail of Senator O'Daniel. Senator O'Daniel was a super flour salesman. He fooled a majority of the people of Texas in three political races. But when 1948 comes around, O'Daniel will probably have his hands full in attempting to be re-elected. At one time it was reported out of Washington that the Senator would have the audacity to oppose Tom Connally in 1946, thereby hoping to be elected for a six year term at that time and thereby become the senior Senator from Texas. Since O'Daniel spent a good sized fortune in the last election trying to defeat Roosevelt, we imagine that he is just about as popular in administrative circles as Hitler is in the White House.

BURLESQUE ON GOVERNMENT

In all the talk about manpower shortage, one fact stands out clearly—under the present labor monopoly in the United States men are prevented from working unless they first pay to get their jobs. If you don't believe this, try to get a job in a war industry.

No American citizen should be forced to join any organization, whether it be labor, religious or political, before he can earn his living. Allowing labor unions to remain outside the laws which regulate all business corporations, while collecting millions of dollars in dues, is a travesty on justice and a burlesque on government.

Such tyranny within a so-called free country cannot be continued without ultimately leading to dictatorship by either labor bosses, political bosses, or both. Freedom flies out of the window when a man must get permission of another man to earn his daily bread.

IT TAKES MORE THAN MONEY

About the time public opnion in this country reached its peak in deciding that we would have nothing further to do with the troubles of the rest of the world, a handful of pioneers in the aviation industry started development of the first long range bombers. That was in 1934.

In the ensuing few years those pioneers mortgaged themselves to the eyes to carry forward their work of building the world's mightiest planes. They spent millions of dollars on experiments, sometimes only to see them crash into oblivion. Little public encouragement was forthcoming because preparation for war was not politically popular in the peaceful thirties. In addition to developing flying fortresses and superfortresses, air transport pioneers spun airlines across the continent and across the seas. Over these airways American men, in the bitter school of experience, became matchless pilots, familiar with the elements. Then came Pearl harbor!

The nation turned to those pioneers, to those pilots and their machines. Suddenly it wanted to spend billions when before it refused to spend millions, to make the United States into a great air power. The billions would have been utterly useless but for the ground work that had been going on for ten years in backyard shops all over the country; but for the nucelus of training men from the airlines.

As our super bombers now roar to the far corners of the earth, we should pause long enough to realize that money alone could not have produced those planes. The pioneers of American aviation had them on drawing boards and in actual service long before the first billion for defense was voted by Congress.

Young men are advised to either go into war plants or they will be sent to the army. But going back into war work is not so free and easy as all that. First of all they must join a union, and pay tribute to a group of labor racketeers who dictate to the government how these men shall work. There is no union in the armed forces to tell the fighting men to stop after eight hours, or not to fight after 35 hours per week. Yet the men and women in war plants, who are drawing more money than they ever before drew, are unionized to the limit.

Berlin reports that Russia has started its winter drive. We hope so. During recent months the Russians and British have allowed Americans to do the fighting. Furthermore, the Russians are throwing every handicap in our way. No American military men are allowed to see what the Russians are doing; and no American planes are allowed to land on sacred Russian soil. Shuttle bombing is ruled out, but Stalin does not hesitate to use all of the war materials which we are sending him.

Personally, we consider the slogan, "Work or fight" as all wet. Just how much of either work or fight could you get out of a young man or a middle aged man who has hung around pool halls, followed the races, patronized gambling joints, or worked in hot night clubs? These joints should have been closed when war was declared, instead of waiting until the third year of the war. The hangers-on who have refused to do something constructive during the past two years will hardly be good in either working or fighting.

ORDINANCE NO. 95

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING PARKING, TRAVEL AND TRAFFIC ON FOURTH AVENUE AND ELEVENTH STREET IN THE CITY OF CANYON, TEXAS AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF SAME, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF CANYON, TEXAS:

Section 1. It shall be the duty of all persons owning or operating or having charge or under their control or custody any vehicle, wagon, automobile, truck, tractor, motorcycle or any other vehicle upon Fourth Avenue and Eleventh Street or intersecting streets thereto in the City of Canyon, Texas to observe and conform to the following rules and regulations.

Section 2. All persons operating or parking an automobile, truck, tractor, motor cycle, wagon or other vehicle upon Fourth Avenue and Eleventh Street from its intersection with Fourth Avenue North to U. S. Highway 60 shall cause such vehicle under their control to be parked along the right-hand curb and parallel with the curb. All parking shall be in single line parallel parking, with no center parking.

Section 3. All persons operating or driving an automobile, truck, tractor, motor cycle or other vehicle upon all streets from Tenth to Twenty seventh Street where they intersect Fourth Avenue shall bring the same to a complete stop upon approaching Fourth Avenue and before driving upon or across said Fourth Avenue.

Section 4. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined any sum not to exceed One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars.

Section 5. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 6. In view of the fact that this ordinance is necessary for the immediate protection and preservation of the streets, public safety and general welfare, it becomes necessary that this ordinance shall be in full force and effect immediately from and after its passage and it is accordingly so ordained.

PASSED AND APPROVED this the 2nd day of January, A. D. 1945

W. A. WARREN,
Mayor, City of Canyon, Texas.

Attest: Berl E. Mayfield,
City Secretary. 44t3

SWAPPING FREEDOM FOR GROCERIES

Reports indicate that consumer-labor groups are bringing organized pressure to bear in favor of tightened price and rationing control. If this is the result of patriotic concern for the war effort, no fault can be found, but there are ample grounds for suspecting that furthering the cause of victory is not the major factor in such pressure group maneuvering. Apparently it is an attempt to escape the squeeze of inflation by turning to increasingly stringent government regulation. If this process was occurring in peacetime, these groups would be guilty of attempting to barter away the people's freedom for a bag of groceries, a swap that history has demonstrated cannot be made.

After the war, the people will have to make up their minds to re-establish the unregulated ways of peace, regardless of temporary hardship. They cannot expect government to set the price of everything they wear and eat, and tell the producers and distributors how and when to operate, and still preserve a representative form of government.

Hundreds of thousands of retail distributors willingly surrendered the right to carry on business as independent individuals, because they believed they were helping the war effort. They did not surrender that right for the convenience of any pressure group. And when the war is over, they will eventually demand that the management of the distribution industry will be returned to those who bear the responsibility for its successful operation—the store owners themselves.

Efficiency and volume are the bywords of every modern chain or independent merchant. The high standard of living which the country now takes for granted, depends upon the maintenance of this volume and this efficiency. Cumbersome centralized regulation, carried on indefinitely, will result in less goods for the consumer, not more, as competition is stifled and the incentive to serve is blotted out.

Yes, we can keep freedom or we can lose freedom, but we can't swap it for groceries.

It takes only a majority vote in both the Senate and House in Congress to declare war. Yet we foolishly prescribe that it takes two-third majority of the Senate only to write the peace. The House stands idly by and has no voice in this vital matter. A small minority of Senators defeated Wilson's plan for a permanent peace. A small group may now defeat any peace plan which may be devised when victory finally comes. Senator Wheeler is ready to lead this group. Why should not peace be written by a majority of both houses of Congress?

A CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM

The nation's leading insurance organizations recently held a conference to work out a legislative program for the consideration of Congress, designed to fill the gap left by the Supreme Court decision declaring insurance to be interstate commerce, thus nullifying the existing system of state regulation.

The program is based on the beliefs: (1) That insurance regulation should be vested in the states exclusively, as it had been for 75 years, because the public interest would be best served thereby; (2) That regulation by the Federal government or by both Federal government and the states was not in the public interest; (3) That prompt action by Congress to authorize continuation of such state regulation and taxation is necessary to prevent irreparable damage to the foundations of the structure of American insurance.

Insurance protects the jobs, homes and businesses of millions of persons. Delay in recreating a sound regulatory system threatens the welfare of these millions, not merely a few insurance companies. The insistence of the insurance industry on prompt action is a public service of immeasureable value. Furthermore, its program is constructive and is the result of extensive study and a century of experience.

It is indicated that all kinds of conventions and public gatherings are outlawed by the recent ODT order. If any group wants to meet, it must get approval from Washington. Getting such an order is about as easy as finding a needle in the hay stack. Yes, sir, business men are supposed to stay at home and work for the government, rather than get together for a day or so and see how they may improve their business in order to make more money—which the government will take away from them in taxes. Furthermore, if groups are allowed to get together and discuss orders coming from the bureaucrats in Washington, there might be a house cleaning when the war is over. That would be hard on those who are living off the fat of the land.

An amendment to the constitution has been introduced in Congress to limit the term of office for the president to two terms. It is unfortunate that this amendment was not adopted before Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected and started throwing money to the winds for the purpose of continuing in office. We hope that the amendment will be sent to the states for ratification. Whenever you hear some one opposing this amendment, you may be sure that he is for a 5th term for Roosevelt regardless of what may be the condition of the nation in 1948.

Local Citizens Help Out at Pantex

"Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" was a theme song that appealed to four of the faculty members, a local preacher and three of the college students to such an extent that they sacrificed their Christmas vacation and helped alleviate the manpower shortage at Pantex Ordnance Plant in Amarillo. These industrious people went to work on Friday morning, December 22, and with the exception of only one or two holidays, they worked through January 1, and started to classes on the morning of the following day.

Mr. W. F. Haggard, and Mr. C. L. Littlefield, of the business department; Mr. Mitchell Jones, of the education department; and Mr. L. S. Baker, of the science department; together with Rev. Joseph Findley, of the First Christian Church and the three students, Sharline Burch, Jim Hampton and Petrolia Scott found that they must go through all the preliminary procedures of physical examinations, finger printing and having their pictures made, before they started to work. Then they were issued "monkey-suits," the regulation white coveralls and remainder of the required uniforms of those working on the "loading lines"; they pinned their badges on their coveralls and they were off to work as real "war workers" and for an experience of a life time.

The faculty members and the pastor liked their work immensely at the close of the first day, but on the morning of the second as they started to crawl from beneath the warm covers of their beds at 5 o'clock, they discovered the exact definition of "achin' muscles." After that they were not so sore and stiff, as the work became more of a habit, until the last day, when they worked double shifts, or one 16-hour shift.

Five of the special Pantex workers who were employed during the Christmas vacation are shown in this picture. Pictured, left to right, are Mr. C. L. Littlefield, Mr. L. S. Baker, Mr. W. F. Haggard, Rev. Joseph Findley and Mr. Mitchell Jones. Three college students also worked at the plant during the vacation.

Dr. Pierle on Texas Chemurgic Council

Scientific Problems Are Objectives of Council

West Texas State College will be represented on the Texas Chemurgic Council by Dr. C. A. Pierle, Head of the Department of Chemistry.

Dr. Pierle recently attended the first state-wide Texas Chemurgic conference at Dallas, being at that time a representative of West Texas State College. Dr. T. M. Moore, of the Department of Agriculture, was another representative of the college.

Dr. Pierle's invitation to serve on the Advisory Board came from Victor H. Schoffelmayer who is chairman of the Texas Council and Agriculture editor of "The Dallas News." Mr. Schoffelmayer wrote "Realizing the importance of having effective leadership regionally in the conduct of the Texas Chemurgic Council, set up in Dallas on December 7 during the First State-Wide Chemurgic Conference, I am asking you to serve as a member of the Advisory Board of this organization for West Texas."

Dr. Pierle was glad to accept the appointment. The Texas Chemurgic Council has as its purpose the development of Texas resources through the application of the principles of chemistry and physics to products of the soil such as sweet potatoes, cotton, peanuts, pulp wood, and others. Mr. Schoffelmayer sums up the objectives of the Chemurgic Council thus: "Chemistry and physics are opening new doors and we must get in step with scientific progress. Plant life can be renewed from year to year thus supplying industries with a dependable volume of raw material, in striking contrast to such mineral supplies as coal, iron, copper, aluminum, petroleum, and natural gas, which once exhausted cannot be replaced in our lifetime.

"Our people have a great opportunity to widen the scope of farming throughout the Southwest in keeping with changing needs. The cow, sow, and hen doctrine is still the foundation for good farming, but it needs to be supplemented with new sources of income from products that can serve industry and thus bring about a balance between farming and manufacture."

President J. A. Hill has been actively interested in the subject of Chemurgy for several years. Commenting on Dr. Pierle's appointment he said, "This is something about which faculty and students of West Texas State need to know more. It represents endeavor in a field in which all of us have vital interest."

V-NEWS

Milk has often been referred to as the most nearly perfect food: certainly it deserves a prominent place in the family meals whether it is used as a beverage or in cooking. We are aware that each child should have one quart and each adult one pint of milk in some form. But milk is available here in many different forms; in what respects do they differ?

Pasteurized milk is raw milk which has been heated to a temperature required to destroy any harmful bacteria. There is a very slight loss of ascorbic acid and thiamine during this treatment; however, the safety of the resulting product offsets this minor loss.

Certified milk is produced under very rigidly controlled conditions which are set up by the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions. The result is a milk of very high quality and low bacterial count. This milk may be either raw or pasteurized.

Homogenized milk is treated in such a way that the cream cannot separate. Many feel that the flavor is improved and there is evidence that the digestibility of such milk is greater than that of other types.

Vitamin D. milk has an extra quality of the Vitamin D added by various means which make it of special value in child feeding. At this time, milk is the only Vitamin D. fortified food which is considered for approval by the American Medical Association.

Evaporated milk is double rich homogenized milk which may or may not have extra Vitamin D added. When mixed with an equal amount of water, it becomes equal or superior to the fresh product in food value.

Evaporated condensed milk is that which has a portion of the water removed and a large amount of sugar added; although it was formerly used extensively in infant feeding, it is now being used more in the preparation of desserts.

Dry or powdered milk has practically all of the moisture removed; the fat content varies. The reconstituted milk is rich in minerals, proteins, and vitamins and should fill a need in cooking.

When a soil rests on the parent rock strata from which it was largely formed it is called residual. When the soil is composed of materials removed from their place of formation by winds, glaciers or streams, it is termed transported.

MARGARET SHELNUTT WEDS COX. E. D. ELMORE

Margaret Sue Shelnutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keenan, 1210 8th St., became the bride of Cox. Elwin D. Elmore in a double ring ceremony in the parsonage of the San Jacinto Methodist Church, Amarillo, at 8:30 o'clock, Friday, January 5.

Rev. Sam A. Thomas, pastor of the San Jacinto Church, read the ceremony. Mrs. Thomas furnished the traditional wedding music.

With a two piece suit of powder blue wool, the bride wore a white blouse, brown accessories and a corsage of red rose buds.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Carl S. Miller and Mrs. Wilbur Davis of Canyon. The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Averon Hopkins.

The bride attended Canyon high school and is employed at Pantex Ordnance Plant. She will join her husband in Norfolk, Va. about January 22.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Cora Elmore, 308 A Maryland, Amarillo, and has been serving aboard the U. S. S. Honolulu since April 1943. He is temporarily stationed in Norfolk.

An informal reception was held in the home of the bridegoorm's mother after the ceremony for the wedding party and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keenan, Miss Patricia Rose Shelnutt, daughter of the bride, and Mrs. Averon Hopkins.

THE ROSE WALKER CIRCLE MEETS WITH MRS. BAKER

The Rose Walker Circle met with Mrs. Dosia Baker at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

For the opening song the group sang "I Love To Tell the Story." Mrs. J. D. Key led the opening prayer. After the reading of the 16th Chapter of St. John, Mrs. T. T. Fain led in prayer.

During the Bible review conducted by Mrs. J. W. McCrerey, the group read Chapter XVI of Genesis.

To answer roll call the members gave Bible verses.

At the social hour doughnuts with coffee were served to Mrs. T. T. Fain, Mrs. M. E. Sorgee, Mrs. E. B. Anthony, Mrs. J. D. Key, Mrs. J. I. Payton, Mrs. Tom Ziegler, Mrs. I. M. Steen, Mrs. G. W. A NEW RECORD FOR LONG DISTANCE

There were more Long Distance calls in 1944 than in 1943—more than in any other year in history. 1945 has started off with a rush, and some circuits are still crowded. When that's the case, Long Distance will ask your help by saying—"Please limit your call to 5 minutes."

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Would you like to read Abraham Lincoln's biography, written by himself? It was penned a year before he was elected President and, only slightly abridged, follows:

I was born Feb. 12, 1809 in Hardin County, Ky. My parents were born in Virginia, of undistinguished families—second families, perhaps I should say. My mother, who died in my tenth year, was of a family of the name of Hanks. My paternal grandfather, Abraham Lincoln, emigrated from Rockingham County, Va., to Kentucky about 1781 or 1782, where a year or two later, he was killed by the Indians, not in battle but by stealth, when he was laboring to open a farm in the forest. His ancestors, who were Quakers, went to Virginia from Berks County, Pa.

My father, at the death of his father, was but 6 years of age and he grew up literally without education. He removed from Kentucky to what is now Spencer County, Indiana, in my eighth year. We reached our new home about the time the state came into the Union. It was a wild region, with many bears and other wild animals still in the woods. There I grew up.

There were some schools, so called, but no qualifications was ever required of a teacher beyond "readin', writin' and cipherin'" to the rule of three. If a straggler supposed to understand Latin happened to sojourn in the neighborhood, he was looked upon as a wizard. There was absolutely nothing to excite ambition for education. Of course, when I came of age I did not know much. Still, somehow, I could read, write and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all. I have not been to school since. The little advance I now have upon this store of education, I have picked up from time to time under the pressure of necessity.

I was raised to farm work, which I continued till I was 22. At 21, I came to Illinois, Macon County. Then I got to New Salem, at that time in in Sangamon, now in Menard County, where I remained a year as a sort of clerk in a store. Then came the Black Hawk war and I was elected a captain of volunteers, a success which gave me more pleasure than any I have had since. I went the campaign, was elated, ran for the legislature the same year (1832) and was beaten—the only time I have ever been beaten by the people.

The next and three succeeding biennial elections, I was elected to the legislature. I was not a candidate afterward. During this legislative period I had studied law and removed to Springfield to practice it. In 1846 I was once elected to the lower House of Congress. Was not a candidate for re-election. From 1849 to 1854, both inclusive, practiced law more assiduously than ever before. Always a Whig in politics; and generally on the Whig electoral tickets, making active canvasses. I was losing interest in politics when the repeal of the Missouri compromise aroused me again. What I have done since then is pretty well known.

If any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said that I am, in height, 6 feet 4 inches, nearly; lean in flesh, weighing on an average of 180 pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair and gray eyes. No other marks or brand recollected.

March Concert Will Be Presented Thursday Night

Under the direction of Mr. Lewis Chamberlain, the Buffalo Band will present a concert of well-known marches, Thursday evening, January 18, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Administration Building. The program to be given is featuring twenty marches outstanding in the music world of today.

"Stars and Stripes Forever," "Zacatecas," "Parade of the Republic," "The Thunderer," "National Emblem," "King Cotton," "Men of Ohio," "Officer of the Day," "American Patrol," "March of Youth," "American the Beautiful," "New Colonial," "Invercargill," "Them Basses," "Semper Fidelis," and other famed marches will be played. Students, who are playing first chair instrumentation, and will play solo parts in various selections are: Dora Everhart, cornet; Martha Jean Dowd, trombone; Bill Miller, baritone; Sadie Ruth Hoskins, French horn; Lacy Christian, basses; Gerald Smith, clarinet; Ardena Shield, saxaphone; Mary Ruth Russell, drum; Carl Michell, tympany drum; and Mary Hodges, bells.

This concert will be the second formal appearance that the Buffalo Band has made this semester, the first, being the Gay Nineties Revue. The object of these performances is to raise funds to assist in purchasing new uniforms for the band.

"Many students are participating in this concert, who are not regular members of the band," commented Mr. Chamberlain. "I wish to express my sincere appreciation to them for their help in making the concert program a success."

Carnival Director Commends WT's Sun Princess

Evelyn Elliott, who was the representative of West Texas State College at the Southwestern Sun Carnival, must have pleased those who were in charge of this event.

From Dr. C. M. Hendrix, director general of the carnival association, has come a letter to Dean Geraldine Green in which he says, "On behalf of the Southwestern Sun Carnival Association I want to thank you for your wonderful co-operation in assisting us in making the sun carnival this year one of the best.

Your lovely princess represented your people in a beautiful and graceful manner. We are delighted to have had her and sincerely trust that she enjoyed every minute of every event.

We hope for your continued co-operation in making the carnival one of the nations traditional celebrations of New Year's Day."

Life Insurance Is Discussed Tuesday at Rotary Lunch

J. W. Shook was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday, giving a classification talk on life insurance.

There are only three kinds of persons who are not interested in life insurance, stated the speaker: Those who are not physically able to pass the examination; those who are not financially able to carry insurance; those who do not care what happens to their families in case of death.

Life insurance is "Buying money for future delivery." Presbyterian ministers founded the oldest insurance company, which is going strong today. There are now 369 recognized companies; 68 million Americans carrying policies, which amount to 145 billion dollars. The best company is the one which serves the needs of the individual best.

Government insurance was started with Selective Service in 1940. These men and women carry 125 billions in insurance. Mr. Shook stated that every insurance company urges that service men and women take the limit of this insurance, and keep it in force. However, he urges that all those in service, and their beneficiaries study the policies carefully and confer with reputable life insurance agents so that they may be assured of the best protection.

To those who are not in the service, Mr. Shook recommends that they get out their policies and study them to see that they understand all of the provisions. Here again the life insurance agent is glad to give advice in order that all may get the best protection.

Arch Hunsley passed the cigars in honor of his grandson, who was born last week in New York.

Visitors were: Roy Byrd of Canyon; L. A. Vahue, Arch Hunsley, F. R. Barnes, E. Kancher, L. A. Wells, C. R. McAfee, Chas. Green, Allen Early.

Mrs. Mary Jenkins and son, Murel visited in the C. L. Gordon-Cummings home one evening last week

Mrs. G. C. Hutchinson of Tulia visited Sunday with her sister, Mrs. N. E. McIntire.

"WHAT'S BEYOND DEATH?"

"What's beyond death?" is the topic for the first in a series of sermons on the "Hereafter" which Dr. Roy L. Johnson will deliver at the First Baptist Church in Canyon, beginning Sunday, Jan. 21, at 11:00 o'clock. In these times of increasing casualty lists, many people are interested in what is revealed in the Bible about important questions to be discussed in this series of messages.

A new series of sermons is also announced for the night services which begin at 8:15 each Sunday. This group of sermons will be on "Great Nights of the Bible" and was suggested by the timeliness of a published series under that title. Dr. Johnson will speak Sunday night on "A Night of Dissipation." Every sermon in this night series will interpret some event which took place at night, as recorded in the Bible.

Sunday School begins at 9:45 at the Baptist Church with Virgil Henson as general superintendent. Attendance last Sunday was 361. The average for the past twenty weeks has been 51 per Sunday above the same twenty weeks a year ago. The goal for enrollment of Sunday school in 1945 is one thousand. There were thirteen new members last Sunday. Training Union for all age groups is held at 7:15 Sunday evening and mid-week prayer meeting at 8:00 on Wednesday.

Lindsey Taylor recently took part in an assembly program sponsored by the speech department at West Texas State College. Mr. Taylor, who graduated from Canyon High School, is a freshman at the college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Taylor of Canyon.

Mrs. J. C. Fulton, who is making her home with her sister, Mrs. Bob Parsons, spent the week end with her husband, S-Sgt. J. C. Fulton who is in O. C. S. at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Pendleton and daughter from Stratford visited with relatives in Canyon over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Shelnutt and daughter of Tulia spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Velma Mariner.

C. W. Dunn of Dumas has bought the P. V. Winstead two story house at 1800 Fourth Avenue and will move here in a few weeks.

T. A. Black returned home Friday from a two weeks trip to Temple and with a visit with relatives at Pauls Valley, Okla.

Mrs. W. U. Adams and sons Kennith Ray, Da Dean, Carroll and Darroll and Harroll visited with relatives in Amarillo Sunday.

What About the Dance?

By Roy L. Johnson

Dancing is tremendously attractive to many people. It affords relaxation and amusement, stimulates sociability, and provides exercise; but its dangers far outweigh its advantages.

The dance is usually conducted in a way hurtful to health. Its late hours, its scanty clothing, its overheated rooms with outdoor "cooling off" periods, are detrimental to health. It is expensive in special clothes, jewelry, decorations, etc. Its devotees often sacrifice everything else for it. Time from one dance to the next is spent largely in talking about the last one or planning the next one. Interest in church, school, reading and other amusements is often crowded out. In fact, dancing at school, likes flees on a dog, may become common, but it is no more help to real school work than flees are help to the comfort of the dog.

By far the most serious dangers of the dance are impurity and immorality. Modesty must not prevent us from sounding a warning. Newspapers today report that thousands of girls, some even below their teens, are becoming juvenile delinquents through the dance. A midwestern University professor says: "The new social dance is a dance of death. The devil is its author and the underworld its place of origin and proper habitat. Parents are yet unaroused. The crux of the problem is not the public or private place of the 'party,' but the white heat sex stimulation which is involved."

A University of Chicago professor said: "My accusation is that the dance consists substantially of a system of means contrived with more than human ingenuity to excite the instinct of sex. I charge that here the scalpel is laid upon the quivering secret of life. Passion, and nothing else, is the true basis of the popularity of the dance."

A police officer in New York said: "Three-fourths of the abandoned women of this city were first approached through the round dance."

A former proprietor of the Los Angeles Dancing Academy said: "Two thirds of the girls who enter dancing schools are ruined before the year is out."

A matron of a home for fallen women said: "Seven-tenths of the girls received here have fallen thru dancing and its influences."

A Roman Catholic Archbishop said: "The confessional reveals that nineteen-twentieths of all Roman Catholic fallen women trace the beginning of their sad state to the modern dance."

It is not contended that all dancers do so with impure motives, but the chances are overwhelmingly against purity. With so many fine forms of fun for decent and high-purposed people in a Christian land, it is an indictment of one's intelligence or motives for him to choose such questionable practice as dancing. Even if you think you are strong enough to restist all temptation, you ought to think of your influence on others who are not so strong. The dance is a carnal act. The dance contributes nothing to good character. The dance is detrimental to morals. The dance is detrimental to health. The dance is unholy in most of its associations. The dance is destructive of Christian influence. The so-called "grace" of the serpentine gliding of over-exposed bodies on a dance floor too often leads to unspeakable disgrace. The best course for a high-purposed youth is total abstinence.

Many a girl with a fine carriage wants more gas for her car.

WHY SHOULDN'T I SPEND MONEY?

While it's going on over there, we must "hold the line on the home front" by watching ceiling prices carefully. Budget your points and your money to get the most for them. Plan your meals ahead, study the market and prices before buying. By doing these things . . . you help keep our economy safe and sound.
Know your ceiling prices—Bellah's has everything priced at ceiling or less—and will help you with economical buying.

College Speech Group Presents Program For CHS Assembly

Deacon Johnson Announces Amusement For Students

With the singing of "America, the Beautiful" led by Betty Brown, Canyon High School students and faculty gathered for their semi-monthly assembly last Friday. As a follow-up J. Spencer Winn announced the purpose of the Youth Center and the rules by which the students will abide.

Jack Douglas, head of the West Texas State Speech Department, introduced to the assembly Deacon Johnson, Mastor of Ceremonies, who took charge of the program, consisting of several skits, pantomimes, and speeches.

First on the program were serious speeches by Mary Carter and Wayne Thomas. Bill Allen, Marion Goodson, and Charles McDonald gave a skit and Jean Boyd, a pantomime. An acrobatic fete was performed by Ruby and Opal Weast; Joy Cain, Nadine Coker, Shirley Byars, Evelyn Elliott, and Sadie Ruth Hoskins gave a pantomime of a toy store. Betty Dominick gave a reading, "All About Men" and Yvonne Waldrup a skit, "Betty Entertains."

Carl Michell, Roberta Medlen, Lindsey Taylor, and Bill Montgomery presented a pantomime in which Lindsey was the villian. "Blood Flows Through Cactus Gulch" was presented by Joy Cain, Shirley Byars, Nadine Coker, and Sadie Ruth Hoskins.

CHIN-UP FOR SERVICE

Let's be patriotic! Everywhere we go we hear this familiar statement, but how often do we stop to think just what it means?

Instead of buying that dress you saw in the window, or that new suit you really don't need, why not buy a bond or some stamps? And why not save that waste kitchen fat to help manufacture munitions?

Don't we all get a choked-up feeling when we hear of a soldier, sailor, or marine we knew being wounded? Does that make you change your ways or do you just feel bad about it and continue doing exactly the same as you have always done?

Are you far more interested in rushing to the store to buy candy, a new hat, or something else really non-essential, or do you make your way toward the bond and stamps table?

And finally, what could be more patriotic than re-doubling our efforts to take advantage of every opportunity of learning and trying especially hard to make better grades?

No wise man will quit a certainty for an uncertainty.

COMING—

A schedule has been arranged for the Canyon Eagles' coming basketball games. Here it is:

Tues., Jan. 23, Dumas, here.
Tues., Jan. 30, Hereford, there.
Friday, Feb. 2, Dumas, there.
Mon., Feb. 5, Hereford, here.
Fri., Feb. 9, Price, here.
Feb. 16-17, District tourney, here.
Fri., Feb. 23, Price, here.

It is still unexplained how Tommy Thompson got lipstick on the back of his new warm-up suit the first time he wore it. . . . malfunction!

A booklet of yells which will be used at future games and pep rallies, has been received by Supt. J. B. Speer.

As is seen by the above schedule, most of the games will be played here. The boys can play a lot better ball if there is a large crowd there to boost them, so let's all show up at all the Canyon games!

Noble Seniors Stage January Sneak Day

Last Friday afternoon seniors were sitting on the front steps of dear old Canyon High enjoying the warm April - like sunshine. The brilliant idea of taking the afternoon off which popped into each mind was made legal by getting the superintendent's permission and taking the sponsor along.

The group went out north of town to C. E. Head's cow-pasture and roamed around the creek. On the way a troop-train passed them and all the girls nearly waved their arms off. Nobody's attention was attracted on the train but a porter's, and he waved until the train was out of sight. It was the girls' chance to "go steady" but for some reason they stopped waving.

After playing a few games and scaring the cows and horses out of a year's growth each senior became so thirsty that he could have drunk the creek dry but those old cows ran and jumped into the creek and ruined the desire for creek water.

Tongues were hanging out by the time they reached the hill-top and all made a mad rush for the water barrel at the nearest house which became so empty (the barrel) that another one had to be pumped.

All the seniors got to go along and (for the time being) none of them wants to go on another "Sneak Day."

Chieftains Defeat Eagle Teamsters

Ramming their way through a close, action-packed game with the Friona Chieftains, the Canyon High School Eagles swallowed a 20-19 defeat Fridan night in Friona. High-point man was J. Spencer Winn with five scores while Norwood of Friona ranked highest on his team with nine points.

Playing during the first string game for Canyon were: Winn, Standley, Hicks, Wright, Gill and Taylor; for Friona: Lacewell, Weis, Reid, Welch, Norwood, Renner, Buchanon, Roden, Johnson and Womack.

With a margin of ten points the second string Eagles won their game with a score of 31 to 21. Harley Hicks scored 6 field goals and one free shot as high-point man on the Canyon team. Renner with 7 points was high scorer on the Friona team.

A new idea, boys! Dick Milford has a code which he uses to tell Jean Bourgeois just "three little words" almost every day during the last period. The only catch is that it is slightly noisy, huh Dick?

Who should Frances Standley be seen riding with Saturday night but Clifford Burtz. Nice ride, wasn't it, kids?

News that is really news is the switch-up in the eighth grade. James Inman was with Louise Prichard in the show Saturday night. Cal wants to know where Juanita Avent was.

TOOK NO CHANCES

A cub reporter had been warned of the dangers of libel, and on his first assignment—covering a reception—he took no chances, as witness: "A woman giving the name of Mrs. J. C. Jones, who is reported to be one of the society leaders in this section, is said to have given what purported to be a reception yesterday afternoon. It is understood that a considerable number of so-called guests, reported to be ladies notrious in society circles, were present, and some of them are quoted as saying they enjoyed the occasion. It is charged that the firm of Bivins and Spivins furnished the refreshments and Stringham the alleged music. The hostess is said to have worn a necklace of alleged pearls which she declares were given to her by her reputed

Winter Theme Dominates Setting For Merriment

Saturday night members of the Canyon High School Press Club staged a formal dance at the American Legion Hall as their first party of the season.

Winter decorations provided the background and music was furnished by the school record player. Refreshments prepared by Margaret Lair and her committee were sandwiches, cookies, olives, pickles, and apricot punch.

Attending members and their guests were: Ellen Sanders, Don Standley, Betty Ann Miller, Bruce Albers, Frances Gooch, Bill Davis, Rose Hugg, Sandy Oliver, Frances Harp, James Lair, Vergie Haines, J. Spencer Winn, Betty Brown, Harley Hicks, Earl Lock Neff, Sue Ann Moreman, Leroy Hutton, Mary Frances Colwell, Dick Milford, Jean Bourgeois, Norma Jo Currie and Max Bellah. Richard Sanders came as a special guest.

Chaperónes were: Mrs. Dan Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harp, Mrs. Gladys Haines, and sponsor, Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore.

Members Design Joint Gathering

After discussing plans for a social to be held jointly with the Spanish I club, Spanish II members, in their meeting on Wednesday, January 10, played Buzz in Spanish. Forfeits were collected from the ones missing their numbers and these members were given consequences in Spanish. For the rest of the meeting, members listened to Spanish records.

In a series of called meetings during the past week, the Spanish I Club completed plans for the social which will be held tomorrow evening.

Freshmen Attend Class Festivities

For their second party of the semester, members of the freshman class gathered in the Canyon High School gym Friday night at 8:00.

Social chairman George Milford and Frances Standley led the group in several games, Flying Dutchman, London Bridge, Knocking for Love, and dancing the Virginia Reel.

Refreshments of hot dogs, potato chips, spiced cake, and cold drinks were served by roommothers, Mrs. Fred Standley, Brs. B. A. Burrus, Mrs. Alfred Bellah, and Mrs. W. W. Nicklaus and the class sponsor, Mrs. Mary B. Weeks.

NOT TO MISS ANYBODY

A man had been bitten by a mad dog and was rushed to the hospital for examination. The doctor pronounced the case hydrophobia. A few minutes later the patient summoned a nurse and asked her to bring him a pencil and some paper.

After several minutes of business with the pencil and paper, in which he wrote, erased, scratched and rewrote, the nurse said: "Hadn't you better have a lawyer assist you in making your will?"

"I'm not making my will," the patient answered. "I'm making a list of the people I want to bite."

Eight Negro Soldiers Receive Red Cross Christmas Boxes

When the students of Canyon Grade School recently received a letter from Cpl. Henry McKenzie, they felt repaid for the efforts they had made in preparing and sending Christmas gift packages to him and seven other Negro soldiers.

Lt. Roach Allen, ex-teacher in Canyon Grade School, wrote Miss Elva Fronabarger from somewhere in the Philippines to say that eight Negro soldiers in his company were receiving no mail. Since mail is one of the chief morale builders for our fighting men, Lt. Allen thought that some of Miss Fronabarger's students might be able to remedy this situation.

Pupils Prepare Gift Boxes

The Junior Red Cross took over and decided to send each of the boys a package. Lt. Allen told Miss Fronabarger the types of boys they were, and from the information submitted, the students prepared the G. I.'s some boxes, which contained mystery novels, movie magazines, song sheets, cartoons, cross word puzzles, and (ahem) colorful pin-up girls. Lt. Allen said to be sure and include the song sheets as the soldiers were all interested in music, although anything would be appreciated.

Cpl. McKenzie wrote from "Somewhere in the Philippines:"

"Dear Students of Canyon Grade School:

Soldier Sends Thanks

"I am one of many soldiers that received your most welcome Christmas Gifts. I send my deepest thanks. It is children like you that keep us soldiers fighting all the harder. Keep up the good work and may God bless every one of you. Here's wishing you a very Merry Christmas and a most joyful New Year. It is a little late, but the feeling still comes from each word.

A Soldier friend,
Cpl. Henry McKenzie."

Canyon High School students again welcome home their visiting ex-student servicemen. After the holidays, not so many are home but some are here visiting friends and relatives.

Seaman 1-c Alvin Kuhlman is visiting his parents in the Palo Duro community. Seaman Kuhlman is in training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Alvin graduated from this school in 1941 and drove the Palo Duro bus for several years.

Seaman 1-c George Black, who has been stationed at Indianapolis, Indiana, came home last week for a short visit with his parents and friends in Canyon. He was not on leave, but had been delayed enroute to San Dego, California, where he will be stationed. Seaman Black is a graduate of 1941 and attended West Texas State College before entering the services.

On a fifteen-day leave from the Navy, Aviation Radioman 3-c Harry Brown, '41 CHS graduate, is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Brown, and will report back to Jacksonville, Florida, January 27.

Few people can enjoy the scenery along a detour.

Due to an undetected camera fault, pictures taken for the yearbook several weeks ago by Paul Benton of the C. K. Henington Studios were not good, and Mr. Benton will return Monday to retake individual pictures. Senior pictures were good, but other high school students will be rephotographed.

Grade Notes

Mrs. Robert Orton's first grade class completed a unit on good table manners and was rewarded by being allowed to cook hot rolls on Miss Fronabarger's model cook stove.

Forwarding the first grade in their nature study work, Richard Fleming brought a collection of about fifty pea-cock feathers to the class and made a talk on the habits of his pea-cock.

Mrs. John Davis's sixth grade received a number of books and posters in a series of units on lumber from the Coca Cola company of Amarillo.

In the near future the sixth grades will begin two murals, one on Mexico and the other on South America.

Beginning an art unit under Mrs. Robert Orton, Mrs. Hazel Atchley's class is carving shoes of the different ages, such as the U. S. in 1919-1920, American Indians, Plains; 1750, U. S. Quaker; Roman, 100 A. D.; Philippine Islands; Hittite boot, worn by Phoenicians and Etruscans; French, 1300 A. D. These small figurines are to be made of soap.

On the sick list this week are Barbara Waggoner, Nancy Brummett, Robert Ormy and Ella Jean McDuff, who underwent a major operation at St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo.

Those withdrawing from school last week were Sandra Davis, to Hedley; Dorothie Luster to Quitaque; Robby Fay Nall to Littlefield; Fred Aragon to Hale Center.

Donna Sue and Robert Brasher from Plainview entered school here this week.

Mrs. W. M. Miller's fifth and sixth grade classes have been reading speed tests and then graphing the grades of their tests.

Mrs. L. M. Cousins' class has profited by studying the solar system in elementary science and becoming interested in the changes of the moon and the placement of the stars and planets.

This grade has almost one hundred percent of it's members buying war stamps each week.

Council Initiates New Regulations

Numerous Games Provide Recreation For Students

Students of Canyon High School will attend the opening of the Youth Center in the high school gym tonight, with the senior class members in charge of the initial program of entertainment.

In a class meeting Friday the following committees and chairmen were appointed: decorations, Rose Hugg; invitations and advertising, Tommy Thompson; games, Billy Thurmon; refreshments, Margaret Lair; music, Sue Ann Moreman; and registration, Ellen Root.

Congress Forms Regulations

Following are the rules set up by the Student Faculty Congress to be carried out by the students attending.

1. The purpose of this Youth Center is to furnish wholesome well-sponsored recreation for CHS students.

2. Only CHS students (freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors) will be allowed to attend. Any parents who would like to attend are urged to do so.

3. A different high school class will sponsor it each time, with the class sponsor, roomparents, and other parents acting as hosts and hostesses.

Classes Plan Programs

4. Each class will plan its own type of program as suggested below.

5. Included in the recreation furnished by the Center may be: ping-pong, table games, skating, folk games, social and folk dancing, and such other approved entertainment, and a snack table consisting of light refreshments and soft drinks to be sold to students.

6. Upon arrival, students will be required to sign a register giving the time of arrival. If a student should leave before 10:30, he or she must indicate the time of leaving. Running in and out of the building will not be permitted, and once a student has left the building, he cannot return that evening except in cases of emergency.

Three-Hour Session

7. Suggested class committees: music, refreshments, dance supervision, decorations, finances, game supervision, doorkeepers, and invitations.

8. The Center will open at 7:30 P. M. and close at 10:30 P. M.

9. No cover charge will be assessed unless it is seen that the profits on refreshments are not sufficient to pay operating expenses.

Give Your Electrical Appliances The Best of Care!

Why

Over a period of years modern Electric appliances have lifted the yoke of household drudgery. Now in this war year, when your job as housewife is infinitely more complex, you need more than ever before the time and work-saving assistance your Electrical appliances give. Therefore, it's essential that they be kept in use and given proper care. Keep them clean and in good working order so that for the duration they won't go on vacation.

How

Your Electric appliances are sturdily built and will give years of dependable service if given careful attention. Follow these general suggestions on how to help make your appliances outlast the war.

Never drop Electric appliances. Don't leave cords so appliances can be accidentally jerked to the floor.

Avoid letting spilled foods dry or harden on appliances. Oil or lubricate motor operated appliances regularly according to manufacturer's suggestions and directions.

As soon as lamp and appliance cords become frayed or rubber insulation cracked repair at once.

When not using for some time, cover appliances with wrapping paper or cloth.

Don't tinker with Electric appliances unless you know what you are doing.

At the very first sign of trouble, take your appliance—along with any broken parts—to a reliable serviceman for repairs. Don't wait, do it before it's too late.

Southwestern PUBLIC SERVICE Company

New Service Is Started by West Texas State

A new public service feature has been inaugurated by West Texas State College. It is a psychological testing and counseling service for vocational guidance.

The college department of Education has been interested in widening the scope of its services for some time, and extending its counseling service is a logical new development. Dean R. P. Jarrett, who is also head of the Education Department, will direct the new movement.

Co-operating also will be the Hogg Foundation of the University of Texas. Dr. R. L. Sutherland has stated that consultants will be furnished to assist Dr. Jarrett and Dr. Roy Boger in making the vocational guidance service one of the best in the United States.

The new service, which will be conducted at the Amarillo Center, is designed to benefit high school juniors and seniors, college students, and other adults. It will be in charge of Dr. Roy G. Boger, director of the Center, whose educational preparation and experience fit him to do highly skilful work in this field. The folder describing the new service says, "Vocational guidance is the art of helping an individual to choose a vocation which makes the best possible use of his abilities, interests, and personal characteristics."

Included in the service to the individual are tests of aptitudes and mental ability, interest and personality questionnaires, interviews, and other methods, all applying to the individual's problems of occupational choice. It is believed that this assistance will open up to everyone who has the service, information of which the person examined has not been aware before.

It is pointed out that this service does not pose as finding a perfect solution to any individual's problems, but that it is simply advisory, the findings being based upon the best scientific procedure.

The person who wants to choose his vocation on the basis of this service proceeds as follows: first, he makes an appointment; then a preliminary interview is arranged; if at its end, the person wishes to go on with the services, he arranges to take a group of tests. If he feels that the service will not be of value to him, the matter stops at this point without any expense to the person interviewed.

If, however, he wishes to go on, the second step is for the counsellee to fill out a personal data sheet. The third step consists of a battery of tests to determine general mental ability and learning capacity, special aptitudes and abilities, vocational and educational interests, personality and emotional traits.

When all these tests are completed, a summary of the findings is made by the counselor and this is frankly discussed with the client and every possible attempt is made to acquaint the client with the vocations for which he seems to be fitted and which are in line with his interests.

This vocational counseling usually consumes from 8 to 12 hours per person and, except in unusual cases, the time should be broken up into short periods.

This testing and counseling service is not free. The cost is $25.00 which is considered a very reasonable fee considering the importance involved in choosing a vocation and the time which each individual requires.

West Texas State College is the third college in Texas to offer a service of this kind; the other two colleges are hundreds of miles from Amarillo Center where West Texas State College will conduct its service for the present. It is expected that this undertaking will become one of the most important features of the Amarillo Center program.

Although the announcement of the service has just been made, Dr. Boger reports that there is already a lively interest on the part of young people, their parents, and adult workers who are anxious to make the most of their abilities.

Nowadays the rising generation retires when the retiring generation rises.

HARA-KIRI ISN'T THE ANSWER!

As a method of Jap self-extermination, hara-kiri has proved an efficient ally.

But who wants to wait for all of Japan to fall on a sword and call it quits?

No, hara-kiri won't win this war. Wishful thinking won't win it either. This is a job for MacArthur and Nimitz. For G. I. Joe and a guy named "YOU"!

Now MacArthur and Nimitz and G. I. Joe can handle their end, as the record shows.

But how about YOU?

Your job at present is simply this: Keep on buying War Bonds—week-in, week-out—until final victory is ours. Buy on the Payroll Saving Plan; or buy on your own plan. Keep on digging into your wallet for every leaf of folding green you can spare and sink it into every bond it will buy! These bonds are your stake in America—today and tomorrow.

These Will WIN!

Yes, it's the food that feeds us that will win the war, the same food that the sons of other lands and our boys far away are eating. The food that the men who didn't go are eating when the plant whistle blows at noon. Or the food that their wives and daughters need to give them strength for their jobs.

So, you see, it's sort of up to our farmers to keep things going. For if our production in the field falls behind, production in the plants Will lag, too, and the final effects will be felt at the end of the line, which is the FRONT LINE over there!

Summer Session Begins June 5— Closes Aug. 11

Announcement has been made from the Office of the Registrar that the summer session of West Texas State College will begin on Tuesday, June 5th. The closing date is August 11. Graduation ceremonies will be on August 8, thus allowing a vacation period for students and faculty preceding the beginning of the Fall semester in September.

During the summer, classes will meet daily except Saturday and Sunday. Each course convenes for one hour, according to plans outlined by Dr. Shirley, Registrar. Individual students may elect to complete as many as twelve hours of academic work.

Members of the faculty have turned in their prospective offerings in major and minor fields; those courses will be offered in almost every department which seem to satisfy the needs of the largest number of students.

Detailed information may be obtained from Dr. Shirley later this month. It is suggested that students with special curricular problems consult him as soon as possible if they intend to take courses in the Summer Session.
